Daily Rituals: How Artists Work — Mason Currey

Kafka is one of 161 inspired, and inspiring, minds—among them, novelists, poets, playwrights, painters, philosophers, scientists, and mathematicians—whose daily rituals are recorded in these pages. Like Kafka, they worked in the face of countless obstacles (some of them self-inflicted) and developed a fascinating range of “subtle maneuvers” to get their work done each day, from waking early to staying up late, drinking vast quantities of coffee to taking long daily walks and ...

Rituals are a little more mysterious. Counting out the precise number of coffee beans for your morning cup (as Beethoven did), or standing by the kitchen window and watching for the very first slivers of the sunrise (as Toni Morrison does)—things like this can help you ease into the right state of mind for creative work.
